DR. BECK IS GRADUATION SPEAKER FOR SEMINARIANS

"God's call has always triumphed against the odds. We need not fear the future, for God is already there," the Rev. Dr. Alfred L. Beck, president of the New York and New England Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, told the 35 graduates of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary who received their Bachelor of Divinity degrees at the graduation service Friday evening at the Church of the Abiding Presence on the seminary campus.

Recalling how the Jews halted before crossing the Jordan into the Promised Land and sent 12 men to search through the land before going ahead, Dr. Beck said: "They were fearful of what they would find beyond the Jordan. It is strange that only two had the willingness to go ahead, and history was to prove them right."

Problems Ahead

"Today there are those who speak of doom and that the days ahead of use are perilous days. We all noted the great increase of church membership in the years immediately after the war. But four years ago a decline began. The Lutheran church is growing—but by inches. And the unchurched have also grown."

"We will have 40 million more people in our nation in another decade—how many of these will we win for the church?"

"There are problems ahead. The superficiality of what has passed too often for Christianity must go. In the past we have preached race equality—in the next decade we must practice it."

The Church's Task

"In the past we have decried materialism. In the next decade we shall have to show by our spirit of sacrifice that we too are not materialistic."

"The church will have to fight against social injustice and the church cannot continue to ignore the break down of morality for if the fabric is weakened everywhere there's danger that the fabric will be weakened in the church itself. And the church will have to do more than protest against divorce and against juvenile delinquency. It will have to build homes in which there is a true Christianity."

"The church will have to be a kind of laboratory in which the works of Christ are taught and practiced and we shall have to

More Than 100 Spy Traps Planted By Communists In U.S. Embassies In 10 Years

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. sleuths today kept vacant a sizeable space in their secret trophy room and confidently predicted they'll fill it with Soviet spy devices seized in U. S. embassies abroad.

So far, in 10 years of probing through every nook and cranny of U. S. diplomatic quarters overseas, they have turned up over 100 spy gadgets planted by Communists.

They report the tempo of Communist bugging has stepped up. And they feel sure they can pull out the bugs just about as fast as the Reds put them in, even though the Soviets are devising ever fancier electronic gimmicks.

Mikes And Phones

Captured microphones, tapped telephones and the like are shipped back to Washington and kept in a secret room in the State Department for training U. S. diplomats to be wary when they go overseas.

Moos To Booze

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—When his cows got crocked, farmer Harry Main got curious.

Investigating the case of the hiccupping heifers, Main found his herd of cattle had wandered onto eight barrels of whisky mash hidden on his farm and had switched from moos to booze.

Main also found a still nearby, and deputy sheriffs took it from there. Thursday night they arrested two men at the still. Booked on moonshine charges and held under bond of $1,000 each were Thomas Dawkins, 59, and Robert Winsor, 30, both of Washington.

FIRE DESTROYS HUNTING CAMP IN MOUNTAINS

Fire which destroyed the Diamond Hunting Camp of York on the south side of South Mountain, near Bendersville, Friday evening ended plans of three York couples and their families to spend the holiday weekend there and caused $5,000 damage.

Charles W. Bretzman, assistant fire chief of the Bendersville Fire Company and head of its forest fire fighting crew, reported the husband of one of the families drove the three women and children to the camp Friday afternoon.

The ladies started a wood fire in a chunk stove, later allowed the fire to die out.

Forest Threatened

They were working about the camp preparing it for the weekend when they saw fire above the ceiling. The group ran to the home of Earl Blocher, about a quarter mile away to telephone for assistance.

Bendersville firemen arriving found the entire structure ablaze and found that the fire had ignited the tops of trees above the cabin. Wind blew sparks from the flaming tree tops as far as 200 yards and started a number of small forest fires.

The hunting cabin which was built in 1916 and modernized during the last several years burned to the ground. The television set, refrigerators and other equipment also burned.

Bendersville firemen remained on the scene until about 10 o'clock. The Bendersville forest fire fighters remained until after 11 o'clock when the rain began.

The cabin was located on the farm of Guy Heller about midway between Bendersville and Pine Grove Furnace.

The husbands of the women at the cabin arrived while the fire was at its height.

COURT GRANTS A NEW TRIAL
The Adams County court today granted a new trial in the trespass action brought by Zora Mae and C. R. Gulden, R. 1, against Granville S. Miller, Littlestown R. 2, because the verdict returned by the jury, granting the Guldens $7,393.28, was not high enough.

Mrs. Gulden was badly burned when flaming gasoline was ejected from a tractor at the Gulden barn while Miller was repairing it.

The jury in its verdict gave Mr. Gulden the amount he had spent for medical and hospital care of his wife, $1,593.28 and Mrs. Gulden was given $2,200 for pain and suffering.

In his opinion granting the new trial Judge W. C. Sheely ruled that Gulden was entitled to more than the hospital and medical expense because he lost the services of his wife for housecleaning, caring for chickens and cow and helping otherwise on the farm.

The court said, "Had the husband employed someone to perform these services for him he would have been entitled to the cost of their food which would have been substantial. He performed some of the services himself and others were not performed at all, which constituted a loss to him."

The court also held that "when we consider the nature of her injuries and the severe pain and suffering which she suffered during the year immediately following the accident (she was not able to sit down for more than a year after the accident) and the pain and discomfort and disability which continued down to the time of trial nearly two years after the accident, and which will continue to exist in the future, in connection with the failure to allow the husband any damages for loss of services we are convinced that justice requires the granting of new trials as to both claims."

Pleasure-bent Americans by the thousands streamed onto the nation's highways today in the first full day of the long Memorial Day weekend. So far reported traffic fatalities have been light.

This weekend began on a tragic note as the first reported traffic fatality was a 10-month-old boy. Little Armos Loyer was struck and killed by a truck driven by his father in the driveway of the Wakeman, Ohio, home.

In Chicago, two persons were killed and five others injured when their car struck a utility pole and skidded another 400 feet.

This is the first of three Saturday-Sunday-Monday holidays before warm weather ends. July 4 falls on Monday this year; Labor Day always does so.

"GOD'S HELP"

With the help of God I can sing a song . . . as I go from day to day . . . with His righteousness and guiding light . . . I can always find my way . . . He relieves me when I'm tired . . . with a tender loving hand . . . and whenever I am puzzled . . . God will make me understand . . . if my cause is just, God aids me . . . to accomplish what I try . . . with a faith that burns more brightly . . . if my will begins to die . . . knowing God is close beside me . . . is a comfort so sublime . . . giving me the strength I'm needing . . . to complete each rugged climb . . . matters not how great the trouble . . . with God's help I'll see it through . . . trust in Him and I am sure that . . . He will do the same for you.

U.S. Has Machine That Will Read Russian, Talk English

YORKTOWN HEIGHTS, N.Y. (AP) — A machine that reads Russian and talks English like a vaudeville Bolshevik promises to give America a big boost in the cold war.

The electronic device can rattle out about 40 words of translation a minute, but scientists expect that improvements will soon enable it to handle 2,400. And with better grammar.

The machine, developed by International Business Machines Corp., can parlay Russian writing from Communist party newspapers to scientific journals. In goes Russian, out comes English—crude but comprehensible.

Scientists working on the translator have compiled an electronic dictionary of about 50,000 word stems so far, giving the device a vocabulary of about half a million words and idioms.

The dictionary is stored in the form of a code of bars and spaces on a glass disk and may eventually reach 400,000 word stems. The Russian to be translated is typed—by someone who needn't understand a word of it—on a punched tape that codes the words into electric signals. Fed into the machine, the tape electronically searches out the matching code on the glass dictionary and prints it on a typewriter.

When it hits a word it doesn't know the machine repeats the word in Russian—in blushing red, when there is a choice, the machine prints both.

Dr. Lloyd C. Keetlauffer, retired local superintendent of schools and an honorary member of the alumni association, was introduced as was Clifford B. Snowberger, high school principal, upon whom the toastmaster conferred an honorary alumni membership.

Only One From '15
The Japanese exchange student at the high school, a member of the graduating class, Masako Kajimura, was introduced, and then the old grads and reunion classes were called upon.

Nonreunion classes of 1903 and 1904 were presented and the latter group had Fred G. Troxell for its spokesman. Its members present included the Rev. Charles S. Bream from Casper, Wyo. Six were present of the nine members living.

Earl A. Deatrick responded for the Class of 1910 and Maurice Stallsmith of Lancaster was the only member of his class of 1915 present for the banquet. He said 16 of its members are living.

Reunion Classes Report
Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler of Gettysburg was spokesman for the 40th anniversary class of 1920 and she introduced these members present: Elizabeth Evans, Esther Hartman, Beatrice Pfeiffer, Jacob Schmuckler, Donald Weikert, Mary Bercau Hedrick, James Mumper, Lillian Weaver McCord, J. Clare Routsong, Alice Munshour and Anna Oyer Wolf— and later in the evening, Horace Armore.

Ellmore Slaybaugh, a school superintendent in New Jersey, was spokesman for the Class of 1925 that had 19 present. He introduced his classmates and then read a poem composed by the Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser, a member of the class that numbered 61 at graduation.

Class Party Follows
Attorney Charles W. Wolf of New Oxford spoke for the class of 1930 and introduced the 12 in attendance.

Committees in charge of arrangements for Friday's affair were introduced and the program closed with the singing of the school, "Alma Mater," led by its composer, Paul W. Grove.

Dance, Entertainment
At the dance that followed in the gymnasium, there was a grand march to music of the "Music Men" of Gettysburg High School under the direction of William Neal.

Entertainment at intermission was arranged by Mrs. Buehler. There was a baton twirling routine by senior majorettes from the high school, a piano solo by "Missie" Kajimura, news about GHS alumni by Hugh C. McIlheny and solos by Ted Gilbert, who accompanied himself on the piano.

The French Academy was established by order of the king in 1635 with a limited 40 as members. The 40 are known in France as "The Immortals."

Quit Claim Deed Given Uncle Sam

A quit claim deed from Curvin D. Redding, Gettysburg R. 2, to the United States of America for a two-acre property in Cumberland Twp. along the Emmitsburg Rd. has been filed at the office of the county register and recorder.

James B. Myers, superintendent of the National Park, said the filing of the deed was one of the steps toward acquisition of the property by the government for battlefield purposes. Redding sold the property in 1950 to Katie Bixler, who in turn is selling the property to the government, but the quit claim deed was filed to clear the title.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — John Demarie heard a buzzing noise Friday when he started to crank his Cessna 193.

It wasn't a defective motor—simply a swarm of bees which had bunched under the tail of the plane.

Red Says Ike Wants Peace

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told the Soviet people today he believes that President Eisenhower wants peace.

He was reporting to the nation by radio and television about the failure of the Paris summit conference and his visit to Berlin.

Khrushchev spoke in the Kremlin at a meeting of labor brigades where he was unanimously acclaimed "foremost shock worker of Communist labor."

Despite the kind words for the American President, Khrushchev repeated his charges that it was American aggression which torpedoed the Paris summit conference. He said the United States "bears responsibility before the whole world."

This phrase referred not only to the flight of the U2 but also to the summit failure.

Club members are to help with a Boy Scout paper collection today and to help in transporting the local Scouts to and from the Haines safari in York County on June 16 through the 18. An outdoor meeting at Ruritan Park is planned by the club for the June meeting. This will be preceded by a ball game between the club and the local Boy Scouts starting at 7 p.m.

Ray Shupe, program chairman, introduced Attorney Donald M. Swope, Gettysburg, who spoke about the "Practice of the Law," describing this as the "preparation and trial of cases in court, advice to clients and drafting of instruments." Swope said the following are the basic requirements for the legal profession: moral qualifications, three years of legal education, six-month clerkship and passing a state law examination. These requirements are for the protection of the public, he said. An attorney is frequently asked why "he defends a client he knows to be guilty?" Under the law, Swope said, "No one is guilty until so proven and no lawyer can know nor should he prejudice the guilt or innocence of a client. Every man has a right to have his case properly presented to a jury—otherwise an innocent person could be convicted by default."

Rev. William W. Wood, supply minister of the host church, was introduced as a new member.

Club members are to participate in the Memorial Day parade at Hunterstown this evening.

Guests included Harry Tressler and Mace Binkley, of the State Line, Pa., Ruritan Club.

A Minority Religion

"The truth is, in the last decade we Christians have been acting as if we were the majority religion in the world, and we deceived ourselves. Christianity is a minority religion. We are far outnumbered by those who believe in something different or nothing at all. We are watching the emergence of great nations, in Africa, India, the Soviet, China, and a host of others, where they are not only non-Christian but often opposed to Christianity."

"We of the class of 1960 can listen to the prophets of doom, for they speak realistically, and tell of problems that are present. We stand on the banks of Jordan and the ten speak of the dangers of the way. But wasn't it always dark just before Christianity's finest hours? If we are to rely on membership statistics or endowment funds or modern buildings, if the church is to lean on such crutches, then I would join the prophets of doom tonight. But if the church can be the Church of Jesus Christ as Christ wanted it to be—then there is nothing to fear for the future."

Dr. Baughman Presides
Rev. Dr. Harry F. Baughman, president of the seminary, conferred the degrees upon presentation of the candidates by the Rev. Dr. Ralph D. Heim, secretary of the faculty.

KEEP A NOTEBOOK
Many of our best thoughts wither away before we give them good footage! A fine remedy, and one that grows in value, is to carry a small notebook and jot down your thoughts therein for future development. They grow and often become richer with the passing of time.

I am certain that many of my thoughts have been a loss for want of a fuller understanding and development. Things written for better acquaintance usually bloom anew into better thoughts. We get so many good thoughts, in addition, by reflections. This notebook that I suggest is always a good friend to the mind. It's the father of many a fresh, young thought that may prove to be a friend in need when least expected. Carry a notebook and keep it handy! Most writers make good use of a small notebook, no matter what their daily work may be. It feeds the mind when it counts to be fed!

Often I take up that stimulating "Samuel Butler's Notebook." Others, as well, have found this book one to stimulate any mind. We are of a family and ought to help one another improve his mind. A notebook fills the bill for each one of us. It helps to breed ideas. Try it.

STRANGE SUBS ARE REPORTED OFF U. S. COAST

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)— The Navy today pressed efforts to identify a mysterious, motionless undersea object that gave rise to speculation that foreign submarines are prowling off Florida's coast.

And in Louisiana, a report of a periscope sighting by the merchant ship R. P. Smith in the shallow, winding Mississippi, 20 miles downstream from Baton Rouge, also was investigated. The Navy was skeptical that a submarine would be found at either spot.

If the object in the Atlantic depths off Key West were a Soviet or other alien submarine, it could not be molested in waters outside the three-mile limit. But a Navy spokesman here said "we're sure it's not a sub."

Whatever it is, Navy surface and submarine craft have been striving since Tuesday to learn the nature of the object, picked up on sonar sound equipment near Key West. The Navy at Washington confirmed that a six-ship antisubmarine warfare fleet has been carrying on the investigation for several days.

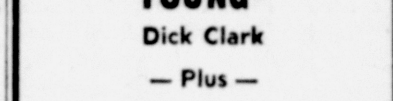

type not developed until later years. But the sleuths believe the eagle originally contained an older, larger model. They deduce this from the size and markings of the secret hollow in the plaque, which was bigger than needed for the device Lodge displayed.

The security men don't know just when the eagle was bugged. It might have been originally, or when it was sent out for repairs, or during two occasions when a Soviet handyman took it to storage.

KISSNER TOPS BULLETS WITH .365 AVERAGE

Gordon Kissner, six-foot, 200-pounder from Silver Spring, Md., capped the 1960 batting crown at Gettysburg College, final baseball statistics revealed today. The Bullets finished the season with a 9-9 overall record and a 9-6 Middle Atlantic slate.

Kissner, a 21-year-old junior left fielder, belted out 23 hits, including four doubles and three triples in 63 times at bat for an average of .365. He drove in 13 runs and scored 12 more.

Jeff Kahler, Rochester, N. Y., tallied the most runs with 18 while Ken Fruchter, Forest Hills, N. Y., blasted the most extra base hits with four doubles, a pair of triples and two home runs. He also accounted for the most runs batted in with 15. Fred Mueller, Lancaster, stole the most bases as he ran off with 10.

Dick Hawkins, Spring Grove, and Mel Jacobs, Camp Hill, turned in the best mound performances. Hawkins, recently signed by the Philadelphia Phillies, registered a 5-3 record and an earned run average of 2.47. He also led the staff in strikeouts with 110. Jacobs racked up four wins and two losses and recorded a 2.54 earned run average.

Jim Davies, Aero Oil moundsman, turned in one of the finest local pitching performances on the Big Little League as he hurled a no-hitter and fanned 15 batters in defeating the Elks 6-2 Friday evening. Both Elks' runs came in the third inning and were unearned.

Another highlight of the game was a triple play turned in by the Elks. Mayer snatched a line drive, stepped on third base and then fired the ball to McDermitt, second baseman, to snuff out another potential Aero rally.

Larry Eckert led the winners' attack with three hits in four trips to the plate.

Grand Slam Beats Braves For Redlegs

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Since he started hitting major league home runs back in 1954, Ed Bailey has slugged one a season against Milwaukee. Just one a year, no more, no less. And he couldn't have picked a better time for his 1960 jolt against the Braves.

This one was a grand-slammer with two out in the ninth that broke a tie and gave Cincinnati a 9-5 victory over Milwaukee Friday night. It moved the Reds within a half-game of the third place Braves, who blew a 5-0 lead and a chance to close in on San Francisco, National League leader.

The Giants lost 5-4 at St. Louis and now have only a one-game lead over rain-riden Pittsburgh. Los Angeles defeated Chicago's Cubs 5-3, giving the Dodgers a five-game streak for the first time this season.

Clouts Five RBIs
Bailey, a left-handed hitting catcher, made it five RBIs for the night with his slam off southpaw rookie Ken Mackenzie (0-1). It was Bailey's fourth home run of the season and followed Vada Pinson's second triple and two intentional walks. Mackenzie fanned Jerry Lynch before giving up Bailey's third career bases-loaded homer—his first since 1956 and his second against the Braves.

The Cardinals, out-hit 12-6, beat southpaw Johnny Antonelli (3-1) for the first time in nine decisions over the past two seasons with four runs in the fifth. Ken Boyer's 11th home run, tops in the majors, came with a man on and capped the spurt. Ron Kline (2-3) was the winner with Lindy McDaniel's save in the seventh after Orlando Cepeda hit a two-run homer.

The Dodgers collected all their runs in the first four innings off loser Glen Hobbie (3-6). They got the clincher in a two-run third on a walk and singles by Wally Moon, Norm Larker and Duke Snider. Stan Williams (2-0) won it with Larry Sherry's relief in the seventh.

Mark Twain once made an off-beat remark which he never bothered to explain: "Be good and you will be lonely."

NEW TITLIST APPEARS SURE IN PIAA GOLF

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—A new PIAA golf champion was a virtual certainty today as Jay Sigel of Lower Merion carried a seven-stroke lead over the field and a 19-stroke bulge over defending champion Ron Reitz of Reading.

Sigel spread-eagled the field of 66 in the start of the 26th annual tournament Friday with rounds of 69-70 for a one over par 139, the same score posted by Reitz at the 36-hole mark last year.

The Lower Merion belter picked up eight birdies, clipping a stroke from par on the 17th and 18th holes in both rounds.

Reitz, of Conrad Weiser High School, sagged badly with a 76-82—159, putting him far down the list of the 25 qualifying for today's final 18 holes.

Mike Kress of Penn Hills and King Knox of Manheim Twp. had 146s, seven strokes off the pace. Two shots farther back were Bob O'Block, Plum Twp., and Jack Solanik of Penn Hills with 148s.

Francis S. Favored in $100,000 Race

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Francis S. was favored to win the $100,000-added Withers Mile today at Aqueduct.

This ancient race for 3-year-olds was inaugurated the year before Aristides captured the first Kentucky Derby in 1875. Aristides then won the second Withers at Jerome Park.

Twelve horses were entered for the 85th running, and not one of them started May 7 in the Kentucky Derby or the Preakness last week. The Withers, however, certainly must produce a solid candidate or two for the last of the triple crown—the $125,000 Belmont Stakes June 11.

Won Wood Memorial
Francis S., owned by Louis Wolfson, won the Wood Memorial in his last start. He'll be ridden by Eddie Arcaro.

Jack Dreyfus' Beau Purple, surprise winner of the Derby Trial but unable to start in the derby itself due to a sore shin, is among the top threats to Francis S. So is the Peblebrook Farm's Irish Lancer, who whipped such good colts as Tompion, Bourbon Prince, Weatherwise and Vital Force last August in the Saratoga Special.

Eric Guerin rides Beau Purple. Manuel Ycaza pilots Irish Lancer. They were listed as second choices at 3-1.

Others entered were New Commander, Udaipur, Four Lane, Count Amber, Klinkhouse, John William, Diaperse, Idolater and Whitecap.

Pennsylvania Corn Club Open To Adams Farmers

By FRANK S. ZETTLER
County Farm Agent

The Pennsylvania Corn Club, open to Adams County farmers, will operate again in 1960.

Sponsored by the Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Association in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension Service, the purpose of the club is to stimulate better farming practices in growing corn.

FRANK S. ZETTLER

Membership in the Corn Club is open to any farm operator not under 21 years of age on August 1, 1960. Enrollment must be made by August 1, and enrollment blanks may be obtained from the Extension office.

Farmers must enter not less than five acres of one hybrid or variety at one location on the farm on non-irrigated land. The hybrid or variety must be one used for corn production, not seed production. Experimental hybrids are not eligible. A new hybrid is eligible provided proof can be furnished, if requested, that at least 100 bushels of seed of the hybrid were sold to Pennsylvania farmers for the 1960 planting season.

Want To Grow 100 Bu. Corn

Average yield of corn in Pennsylvania for the last five years was about 55 bushels of shelled corn per acre. However, many farmers are producing 100 bushels per acre every year. The secret is good corn management.

Corn requires a deep, well-drained soil. Shallow, poorly-drained fields are better kept in sod.

Plant under a good sod. A heavy alfalfa sod will supply as much as 60 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre for the corn. Plowing under corn stalks robs nitrogen from the corn.

Prepare a good seedbed. Overworking and extreme pulverization of the seedbed rob corn yields. Heavy rains on a powdery seedbed cause the surface to cement over forming a roof over the roots. Water cannot penetrate the soil and corn yields suffer.

Don't Use Starvation Diet

Select adapted hybrid varieties. Do not stretch the season but choose varieties that will mature every year.

Plant thick. To produce 100 bushels of shelled corn per acre it requires a population of 14,000 to 16,000 plants per acre. A 14,000 plant population requires dropping kernels every 10 inches for a 40 inch row spacing.

Don't grow corn on a starvation diet. Fertilizer requirements are best determined by soil testing. A row application of 300 pounds of 5-10-10 or equivalent per acre is always needed. Take precautions to place fertilizer at least two inches to the side of the seed. In addition to the row fertilizer it will generally require 500 pounds of 10-10-10 or equivalent per acre. This should be plowed down or drilled deeply before planting.

Control weeds. Chemical sprays may replace the first cultivation but two later cultivations are generally required.

Building Investment Is High

Total farm investment consists of land, buildings, machinery, livestock and supplies. But farm efficiency is affected by the size of the investment in each of these parts.

Building investment in Pennsylvania is high. It comprises 57 per cent of the investment in land and buildings. This compares with 23 per cent for the nation. It

Gettysburg Schools Report

During the past year it has been difficult to pick up a newspaper or magazine that has not carried an article or articles dealing with our "exploding" population in general and the greatly increased number of children that will be enrolling in our schools — both elementary and secondary — in the immediate future years. The United States Department of Education predicts that in the next ten (10) years (1) the population of the United States will increase from 180 million to 209 million or a 15 per cent increase; (2) the labor force will increase from 73.6 million to 87.1 million or a 20 per cent increase; (3) the number of high school students will increase from 9 million to 13.5 million or a 50 per cent increase, and (4) the number of college students will increase from 3.8 million to 6.4 million or a 70 per cent increase.

The members of the Gettysburg ton, Mrs. L. E. Potts and Mrs. Merle Huff.

The Latimore WCTU meeting was held recently at the home of Mrs. Mildred Deardorff with 15 members present. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Mae Wagner. The worship theme was "Childhood and the Home." Included in the program were: Song, "The Wondrous Story"; scripture; special prayer led by Mrs. Lloyd Decker; piano solo, Sally Worley; reading by Mrs. Mae Wagner; silent prayer followed with a prayer for the children by Mrs. Calvin Leer; reading by Emma Wagner; solo, "Mother's Prayers Have Followed Me," Fern Deardorff, accompanied by Mrs. Glenn Wonders.

compares with 40 per cent for the Lake States; Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Out of each dollar in land and buildings, Pennsylvania farmers have 17 cents more invested in buildings than farmers in the Lake States and 34 cents more than the average farmer in the United States.

Since Pennsylvania agriculture is mainly dairy and poultry, building values may be expected to be high. But, farm building value is higher in Pennsylvania than in New York, New Jersey or Delaware.

What does this mean? It might mean there is more investment than necessary tied up in farm buildings in Pennsylvania. "Our farmers have higher capital costs, so buildings should be functional, fancy trim doesn't pay."

Joint School Board have been aware of the need for increased building facilities to meet this increased enrollment in the high school. As early as November, 1957 the superintendent of schools presented estimated enrollment figures to the Finance and Planning Committee of the Joint School Board.

Need For Facilities

These figures indicated a need for additional high school facilities and eventually, in the not distant future, additional elementary school facilities. At the time these projected enrollments were submitted, the Joint School board was in the midst of planning for the Eisenhower Elementary School building. This did not prevent discussion of the needs for additional high school facilities, but it did mean that it would be impossible to finance initially two major school buildings at the same time without immediate promise of state aid for rentals to be paid on actual or proposed construction.

Many meetings of the school board and school board committees were held to discuss our building needs. A great amount of correspondence developed with the Department of Public Instruction at Harrisburg, and many conferences with the personnel in the department held.

Finally, on April 7, an approved room schedule was received after many months of consideration and discussion.

Approve Compromise

This room schedule did not provide the space for additional high school facilities that the school board desired or knew would be need in the next ten years but it was the best that could be approved by the Department of Public Instruction. As a compromise, the department did agree to permit us to build some space additional to that which it would approve for reimbursement. The Joint School board has done everything possible to provide additional space for housing high school pupils without having to carry too much of the rental cost itself without state aid. It is known, as stated before, that this amount, as stated before, that will be inadequate in ten years, or maybe sooner, but present financial ability to finance the desired sized building was a very practical limitation.

It is expected that the architect will soon start to develop preliminary plans and drawings. Other steps involve approval of many various forms by the Department of Public Instruction, the Department of Labor and Industry, the Art Commission, and the Department of Health. After these have been processed and approved, a bond issue will have to be developed and approved, advertisement for construction bids will have to be handled, and bids awarded before construction can start.
